“For the population we have and all of the resources, we should be doing a lot better. ... They’re not rolling out the NBN to what it was. It’s ridiculous to think we have to live with that now in Australia. ... And how dumb must a government be to be unable to sell the idea of taxing billionaires to pay for future infrastructure for everyone?”

How do we feel about the future?

A wide-angle photograph of a city skyline at sunset. The sun is low on the horizon to the right, casting a warm, golden glow over the scene. The sky is filled with soft, wispy clouds. In the foreground, there are residential buildings with dark roofs and lush green trees. The middle ground is dominated by a dense cluster of modern high-rise buildings, including several prominent skyscrapers. A bright yellow banner is overlaid at the bottom of the image, containing the text "Questions and answers" in white, bold, sans-serif font.
